

In the enchanted springs of Portugal, cobblestone towns sit among terracotta roofs, almond trees that blossom white as snow, and hills crowned with stars. Water is the magic here: every spring, fountain, and old stone well has its own quiet wonder. Enchanted maidens called the Mouras keep the springs sweet, a bright rooster crows only the truth, and a playful little goblin called the Trasgo tidies and teases when no one is looking. Here a hero wins not by being the strongest, but by being kind, asking the water gently, and never giving up on a friend. Even a big, fearsome-looking giant of the hills usually turns out to be lonelier than it is frightening.

Follow the golden path from start to finish.

A stern but kindly watchman at a stone gate stopping the children and lifting the cloth on their basket, the children calm and honest.

A basket cloth lifted to reveal a heap of fresh white and pink roses instead of bread, everyone around it wide-eyed with wonder.
